FUN? This is the memorial stone that sits in Washington Park. The tablet is gone, taken by someone whose idea of fun is to be as completely inconsiderate to others as is possible.

THIS WE DO IN MEMORY OF
THOSE WHO HAVE GIVEN THEIR LIVES THAT THIS NATION MIGHT LIVE IN FREEDOM AND EQUALITY
FOR ALL.

BEFORE HOODLUMS desecrated the memorial in Washington Park it looked like this. Flanked with green foliage it provided an appropriate monument.

KILLER INSTINCT? Whoever damaged these trees in Washington Park must revel in destruction. These fine trees, which most of us want to preserve, may be lost through deliberate gouging by a person or persons whose idea of a good time is to ruin property which belongs to others.

A ROCK PILE might be a good spot on which to burn up some of the energy represented in this up-turned rest room in Warren's Washington Park. And it may be directed that way if police find those whose imagination is so limited that they can't find anything constructive to do with their minds or their hands.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

RECREATION IS OPPOSED

Our little piece last week in which we said progress was being made in the recreation field and that many leaders today are seeing the need for facilities with which people can constructively occupy their leisure hours should not lull the backers of such facilities into a complacent slumber. The fight goes on.

Right now there is a move under-way to undermine the Recreation Board of Warren Borough which was established by ordinance in 1955. This board already has laid much groundwork and has made it possible for citizens and groups to contribute money for projects that will play a major part in the borough's future.

But the same ones who were afraid the borough might be obligated for a few utility bills if council approved a lease with the YMCA for the use of the canteen, now are looking for ways of pulling the rug out from under the board. If Warren were charged with the entire cost of paying the gas and electric bills for the youth canteen it would not be much of an item, but these men stalled council for an hour while they quibbled over such trifles.

Actually the youth canteen will be self sustaining, and the money spent to remodel it will be donated. This carries out one of the prime purposes of the recreation board, the provision of facilities through the use of funds other than tax money.

There are some, of course, who do not believe in play of any form, and even as councilmen know practically nothing about their own playgrounds. They have not noted that empty lots are vanishing and the streets no longer are as they were in grampa's day when the horse was the only competitor to a ball game or a fast round of fox and geese.

In the upper Fifth Ward where there isn't a lot big enough for a bean bag game, the boys are crowding onto one corner piece about fifty by one hundred. Tear down four homes and they could let the shaft out.

The same councilman who seems unperturbed by the fact that nearly every police department spends more time investigating juvenile antics than any other form of law violation, closes his eyes to the value of playgrounds, youth centers, and a well balanced recreational program. He picks at a dollar spent for parks and closes his eyes to thousands needed for police protection.

He raises his hands in horror if you tell him some young people are frequenting road houses up the line, but looks down his nose at a budget that might pay a few dollars for the gas and electricity used to make a healthy play spot possible for our young residents.

We certainly do not suggest that a youth canteen is the answer to juvenile problems. In fact it can be just the opposite. That is why we need a good recreation board. A youth canteen should be more than a stepping stone to night clubs. It should have far more than a few tables where young people can sip cokes between dances. It must have a well rounded program that will be attractive and constructive.

We heartily disagree with a recent speech made in Bradford by the high school principal. Speaking at an athletic banquet when awards were given to the students, he harangued the people of the town for not supporting the teams of the school. He scorched the fans for their lack of loyalty and reported that the school's teams had lost one thousand dollars this year. He also called the withdrawal of the baseball team from the former Pony league a sad situation and the loss of a recreation facility.

We don't agree that a baseball team or any team is a recreation facility. This is the day of participation, and though we may want good teams as an inspiration to other performers, it is more important to have activities that will keep our residents, young and old, occupied in a healthy way.

We see nothing frightening about a school losing a thousand dollars in its operation of teams in several sports. That sounds like a very inexpensive program if it provides enough activity for enough boys and girls. We are inclined to suspect that such is not the case in Bradford where much emphasis has been placed on football and basketball. Their squads are smaller than ours, probably because they are interested in only those with the talent to provide winning teams. In Warren we want to win, but the athletic squads are there primarily to give the boys a body-building activity. We believe a town can have the will to win, the ability to win, and fun.

But there is the dollar again, and you will find the same thinking in local circles. The good health, both moral and physical, of our future generations, and of the present one, is not sufficiently valuable to justify the expenditure of a few public dollars?

* The fact is that Warren spends very little on recreation. Through the recreation board and the school board the state has been brought into the picture and now pays a major share of the supervision cost. In addition a major share of our park budget is spent on parks and not recreation, though to see them slice the budget on annual graphs you would think that Warren were spending thousands on play areas and programs.

This not only is untrue, but too much of our parks budget is eaten up by work that is in the borderline category and we might question it as strictly park work. In fact, some of it is absolutely not park department responsibility.

* We have sat back here mighty peaceful like and have watched this quiet maneuvering that has been going on. There are some among us who cannot believe that anyone can perform a public service without thought of prestige or a will for power. They apparently cannot believe that altruism can exist where civic activities are concerned.

Well, there are such people, gentlemen. Warren has citizens who are quite willing to give their time and abilities to the community with no thought of gain, financial, political, social, or egoistic. The Observer intends to give such people all the help possible, and will oppose and expose those who stand in the way of progress.

BUYERS' CORNER

UNDERCUT GLASS

The Pittsburgh Glass Co., has been ordered to stop charging Ford Motor Co. less money for its safety glass than it does Ford competitors. The FTC claimed the Company was charging Ford from 32 to 67 per cent less than it charged others.

VENDING MACHINE BAIT

The FTC has ordered Vendit, Inc. of Cleveland, Ohio, to stop using bait and other forms of deceptive advertising to sell its vending machines and supplies.

The Commission's complaint, issued December 18, had charged the company with falsely advertising in "Help Wanted" sections of newspapers as bait to induce inquiries for employment. Persons answering the ads, the complaint had alleged, are visited by salesmen who attempt to sell them vending machines.

The complaint further charged salesmen misrepresented the profits and security in operating vending machines and the assistance the company will give purchasers.

The company has agreed to an order which prohibits the following representations:

That employment is offered by it when, in fact, the real purpose of advertisements is to obtain purchasers of its products;

That its offer is made to selected persons who must have a car and furnish references;

That profits are any amounts in excess of those customarily earned by operators;

That the amount invested is secured and that the purchasers cannot lose their investments; and

That the operation of the machines is the safest or surest business on earth.

CLAIM TOO MUCH

The Federal Trade Commission has ordered American Life and Accident Insurance Co., St. Louis, Mo., to stop misrepresenting the benefits of its accident and health insurance policies.

The Commission, in an opinion by Commissioner Robert T. Secrest, modified a hearing examiner's earlier decision that, while the company has misrepresented its coverage in advertising, these practices have been abandoned in good faith and the complaint should be dismissed.

Commissioner Secrest said that, although objectionable radio advertising and brochures were discontinued in 1954, the company continues to solicit new business through the mails with a series of 10 letters.

Accordingly, the Commission ordered the company to stop misrepresenting (1) duration of coverage, (2) amounts payable for medical, surgical, and hospital services, (3) death benefits, and (4) the extent of coverage in case of accidents and sickness.

variety of approaches it might be helpful to gullible parents if they know how some of these so-called "contests" really are operated. Here is the FTC story on one of them.

The Federal Trade Commission today charged that the "Cutest Child Contest" conducted by Royal True Color Corp., 2703 - 41st Ave., Long Island City, N.Y., is not a contest at all but a scheme to sell photographs.

According to a Commission complaint, the respondent advertises this plan by means of post cards. The complaint cites a typical card, which reads:

"Dear Mother 55 Valuable Prizes You are cordially invited to bring your child to GRANGE HALL (Farm Village Road) in WEST SIMSBURY, CONN., on FRIDAY, AUGUST 26th, 11 A.M. till 6 P.M. to be photographed in TRUE COLOR. For our

'CUTEST CHILD CONTEST.' $750.00 in prizes sponsored by AMERICAN FAMILY MAGAZINE. There is no charge for this service. Each entrant will receive a Beautiful Transparency PORTRAIT FREE. Courtesy of ROYAL TRUE COLOR STUDIOS. Our COLOR CAMERA takes pictures in NATURAL COLOR. Photographing every cute smile and expression quick as a wink. All children are eligible 2 months to 12 yrs. Tell your Friends to come. IT'S FREE.

IMPORTANT: These are taken in TRUE-COLOR. If possible dress children in BRIGHT COLORS."

The only objective of these post cards, the complaint says, is to sell photographs. The so-called contest is not sponsored by American Family Magazine, which, in fact, is not a recognized or established publication but one owned by the respondent, the complaint adds.

Children designated as "winners," the complaint continues, do not receive valuable prizes, but trivial toys.

No parent whose child poses receives a free portrait, the complaint says, although some may receive a small film slide -- for 35 cents. The colors of pictures that are delivered, the complaint says, are unnatural and inferior.

In some cases, the complaint says, photographs which are purchased are not delivered; in other instances they are delivered only after extended delay. Many times, the complaint continues, purchasers have received photographs of poor quality but have been unable to secure any sort of adjustment from the respondent.

These customers also have been told that American Family Magazine is similar to magazines published for and sold in supermarkets and that it is a monthly magazine.

In fact, the complaint alleges, this magazine is not similar to those sold in supermarkets and is published only quarterly. In many instances, the complaint notes, parents who have subscribed have not received any issues.

NOT WESTINGHOUSE

The cooker-fryer sold by Niresk Industries, Inc., of Chicago, is not a product of Westinghouse, though the phrase "Westinghouse Automatic Thermostat" is displayed in its advertising.

The fryer also is not entitled to be displayed with the Good Housekeeping Seal, though the company has displayed the seal in such a way as to imply the fryer is approved.

The FTC says the purported savings also are not factual because the prices designated as "regular value" and "suggested retail" are fictitiously high.

NEW SHAVERS

Schick electric shavers not only are going to court to prove Remington wrong when it says a two-headed shaver will cut the skin, but they will come out with two new shavers next month. Both with two blades. They will be announced in the June 6 issue of Life and on the June 27 television broadcast of Dragnet.

ASIDES

OBJECTIONABLE ODOR

Something new has been added to the Warren atmosphere, according to numerous residents who claim they are being made ill by a smell which originates in the eastern portion of the community. Though several have expressed their opinion concerning the source, the Observer does not know what actually is the cause of the trouble. Officials no doubt will be asked to investigate and on the basis of past experience in Warren, if industry is to blame, every effort probably will be made to eliminate the unpleasantness.

OBSERVER 42ND

We note that the American Press has rated the Warren Observer and its several editions as 42nd in advertising coverage among weeklies of the nation during the month of April. Inasmuch as there are over 8,000 weeklies, this is a high rating.

In national advertising the Observer rates 8th!

What this means is that the Observer is so well accepted as a leading newspaper by national advertisers that there are only seven papers out of 8,000 which receive more national advertising inches. Obviously, the big names in the advertising business who naturally know their business, are convinced that Warren county has one of the best weeklies in the nation.

We doubt if these figures are completely correct. The study probably is not one hundred per cent. However, it is close enough to be encouraging to the publishers.

BOND ISSUE APPROVED

Bradford residents are supporting flood control efforts in that city. They voted 3 to 1 at last week's primary to float a $650,000 bond issue as the city's part of a series of flood control projects.

NURSES RIGHTS

The right to discuss problems with their employees will be granted nurses and other health agency employees if a bill introduced by Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson and Dr. David M. Boies is passed. Many hospitals refuse to meet with representatives of their employees to discuss mutual problems and the nurses' pledge not to strike proves a handicap. However, better hospitals already have such an arrangement and consider it an aid to improved service and relations.

TAX REFUNDS POSSIBLE

If you have been refused a refund for the exclusion of disability payments from your gross income you may still be eligible for a return from the government. The Supreme Court has made a ruling which has made it necessary for the Internal Revenue Service to give further consideration to these cases.

District Director John H. Binger asks all taxpayers whose claims were rejected or were withdrawn to reopen their claims before the statute of limitations expires. Taxpayers who have filed refund claims involving this issue and on which no action has been taken need not file again. The statute of limitations is three years after the filing of the return or two years after payment of the tax, whichever is later.

posal. Inasmuch as two-thirds of our population now lives in major cities, he believes they deserve representation in the cabinet which still is operating on lines set up when such cities as Philadelphia had only 30,000 people. Consequently, attention is focused more on agriculture than on city problems.

He would create a Department of Urban Affairs, with a secretary who would sit in the cabinet. This new department would coordinate help for the cities in such problems as slum clearance, urban renewal, housing, aid for community functions, such as sewage disposal, and civil defense.

112 SPEND MILLION

Over one million dollars was spent for newspaper advertising by each of 112 customers last year. General Motors led the list with almost $54 million. Tobacco and oil companies increased their expenditures for newspaper space by huge margins, Reynolds Tobacco increasing its expenditure by about 72 per cent, and American Tobacco checking out an increase of 41 per cent.

In the million dollar category Sunshine Biscuit was in hundredth place. It spent $1,135,499 on newspaper ads, an increase of 60 per cent. In fact food distributors generally made big increases in newspaper moving up 100 per cent, and Libby, appropriations, Continental Baking 147 per cent.

Death Penalty For Moon
Upheld By Supreme Court

The death sentence handed Norman W. Moon, the 32-year-old Connellsville man who shot Judge Allison D. Wade in the Warren County Court room over three years ago, was upheld Monday by the State Supreme Court.

Moon had asked the high tribunal to set aside the sentence on the basis he failed to receive a fair and impartial trial. A similar request had been rejected by Warren County Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr.

The defense attorney, Edward Dumbauld of Uniontown, argued that a new trial should be granted the convicted slayer as his fate was entrusted to a jury that was prejudiced and lacked the necessary qualifications of fairness and impartiality.

Justice Michael A. Musmanno was the only judge on the high tribunal to cast a dissenting vote.

Moon killed Judge Wade on January 13, 1954, when he was called to the court room here on a non-support charge involving his wife.

Whether or not a further appeal to a high court or to the state Pardons Board, which can reduce the death penalty, will be made is still to be indicated.

CREEPING MEDIOCRITY

In accepting the Albert Einstein Commemorative Award the other day, Edward R. Murrow spoke some trenchant truths. Speaking of the enormous power wielded by a comparative handful of people in network and television, he said:

"There is a disposition to take us for what we are, and that in turn is likely to keep us where we are. If these devices are to be used in an effort to entertain all of the people all of the time, then we have come perilously close to discovering the real opiate of the people."

now with the cancellation of the Sid Caesar show, with the cancellation of "Home" which at least tried to provide a public service, with the rise of the western, and the continued strong hold of the situation comedy. No doubt about it, there is a levelling off of the quality show which aspires to something higher than to "entertain all the people all the time." Sid Caesar was an entertainer but he was also a social thinker and his comedy had germs of truth in it that made him a genuine cultural force. An hour of Dinah Shore or Perry Como, pleasant as they frequently are, is not the same thing. A half hour of Arlene Francis emceeing a variety show is not the same thing as Arlene Francis and her staff demonstrating cooking, decoration, gardening, interviewing people in the arts and in general trying to contribute to the meager of knowledge. One of the real losses next season will be in the field of hour drama which have contributed some of the finest things ever seen on television. There were fourteen regular hour-long dramas this year; only seven have been definitely set for next year, though there may be more.

There is no escaping the fact that the type of show which is a soporific -- that is, the kind of show which doesn't engage you very deeply either emotionally or intellectually or critically -- is gaining ground at the expense of shows that demanded your full attention. Lawrence Welk, the very epitome of the word mildness, is the symbol of the hour.

Chief villain in all this is that old bugaboo cost-per-thousand. The advertiser is unwilling to pay more than a certain price to reach 1,000 people. Competition has fragmented the available audience so that no one gets the lion's share. This is distressing to those of us who have clung to the belief that competition would spur everyone to higher endeavor and greater achievement. It hasn't worked out that way.

If three networks are all competing for the attention of a fixed number of viewers (and in many cities there are five or more stations competing for the viewer's time), everyone gets a smaller share of the pie. That means, instead of two networks giving you big expensive shows, three -- or maybe five stations -- are giving you inexpensive ones. Theoretically, money does not spell quality but it has been the experience of TV that the best shows have cost a lot of money. Or to put it more bluntly, instead of two good shows, we get the choice of five mediocre ones.

It doesn't have to work out that way but there's no overlooking the fact there's a trend in that direction. NBC retorts spiritedly that it is merely facing the economic facts of life in cancelling Sid Caesar and "Home" and adds that it is by no means giving up serious programming. Pencilled in already are some forty "specials", a word NBC attaches to any program that is a little unusual or ambitious. These include a lavish production of "Pinocchio", a two-hour musical show, a good many operas, and six Hallmark productions.

 In the field of public affairs, NBC will have "Assignment In Southeast Asia", several Project 20 documentaries, some ambitious plans to cover the geophysical year, all of which sound promising. "Wide World of Sports" will alternate with "Omnibus" Sunday afternoons.

Nevertheless, the creeping advance of mediocrity -- the deluge of shows which cause no pain and not much pleasure -- is worth noting before it gets too far along. Again to quote Mr. Murrow: "Television is growing so fast that those in charge of it have hardly time to administer it well, let alone to think of its place in civilization. If these instruments are to survive, they must strengthen and affirm the values that are the essence of our civilization. This being true, it is not enough to entertain the greatest numbers; there must also be full appreciation of our historic heritage, wise understanding of our institutions and traditions, familiarity with our classics in literature and the arts, and persistent attention to our ethical principles."

DEAD SEA SCROLLS

The widely-discussed Dead Sea Scrolls will be the subject of a series of four "Faith In Action" broadcasts which NBC radio will present in cooperation with the Council of Liberal Churches starting Sunday, June 2 (8:15-8:30 a.m.) Dr. James Mullenburg, professor of Hebrew at Union Theological Seminary will discuss "The Dead Sea Scrolls Brought Up To Date" on June 2; Dr. Theodor Gaster, comparative religion at Columbia U will discuss "The Doctrines and Thought of the Sect" on June 9; Rev. A. P. Davis, pastor of All Souls Church, Wash., D.C., and author of the best-selling "Meaning of the Dead Sea Scrolls" will have for his subject on June 16 "The Effect of the New Data on the Interpretation of Jesus"; Rev. Duncan Howlett, minister of First Church at Boston and author of "The Essenes and Christianity" will discuss "The Effect of the New Data on Theology" on June 23.

TV DEBUT FOR NBC OPERA

Francis Poulenc's highly-acclaimed opera "Dialogues of the Carmelites" will be given its first tv presentation by the NBC Opera Company next season, cast and date to be announced later.

The opera, which will be offered in an English translation, was given its world premiere January 26, 1957 at La Scala Opera in Milan, where both text and music were enthusiastically received. The story is set early in the French Revolution and concerns a group of Carmelite nuns and their personal struggles of conscience, closing of their convent and their subsequent execution.

CAESAR'S PLANS

Sid Caesar and Pat Weaver, Jr. announced they have set up a business association to engage in a "new form of motion picture presentation for theaters".

IN THE FUTURE

WIDE WIDE WORLD will be sponsored by General Motors next season beginning September 15 with alternate Sunday programs at 4-5:30 p.m. Dave Garroway will continue as host and Charles Van Doren will appear in several scheduled historical shows for the NBC-TV program.

The alternate Sundays will be filled by Omnibus, which will be enjoying its sixth year. In its first five it received more than fifty major awards, including the Peabody, Ohio State, Emmy, and Sylvania. It has had 400 features on its 128 programs.

PATRICE MUNSEL will have her own show on ABC-TV starting next fall with a Friday night spot. Frigidaire and Buick are sponsors.

THE BIG RECORD, Patti Page's show which starts in September, will feature weekly the top stars in the world of music today. On June 19, Patti will have a dramatic role in "Upbeat", a United States Steel Hour presentation.

BILLY GRAHAM looks upon his upcoming telecasts from Madison Square Garden as an experiment and hopes they may lead to a twenty-six week series of live programs to which he would devote full time. The series is still in the "thought" stage. He views television as the greatest method the church has ever had for getting over its message.

LASSIE will go into its fourth series with 40 new half-hour programs ready to go into production. The original cast will be featured with new characters and backgrounds being introduced to give scope and interest to the CBS show.

JANET BLAIR, whose contract ended with the demise of the Sid Caesar show, has been signed for a series of appearances on the Ed Sullivan Show, starting June 2.

DIAL SPINNERS

JERRY LEWIS Show on NBC-TV June 8 will have Eydie Gorme as guest star. Frank Sinatra, also scheduled for a guest appearance, has cancelled. Lewis himself will be one of several guests on Steve Allen's June 2 show. Others will be Xavier Cugat, Abbe Lane and the Cugat band, comedienne Pat Carroll, singer Erin O'Brien and the Four Diamonds.

CHEVY SHOW, June 2, will have singer Pat Boone, dancer Shirley MacLaine in addition to Giselle MacKenzie, George Gobel, Jeff Donnell, Nelson Riddle and orchestra.

LAMP UNTO MY FEET, at 10 a.m. on June 2 (Chan. 4) will originate live from Philadelphia, during the fiftieth anniversary of the American Baptist Convention. An unusual half-hour drama will utilize the convention proceedings as a background for the action.

IT'S A HIT will premiere on Chan. 4 at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, June 1. This is an exciting baseball quiz program tailored for youngsters in the 7-14 year old bracket. Happy Felton acts as umpire-in-chief of the new CBS sports quiz which should "make a hit" with Pony and Little League players.

THE LIBERTY STORY, a Disneyland production on June 1, will have history presented through the eyes of a mouse in a story of the fight for human freedoms.

FACE THE NATION, CBS-TV on Sunday, June 2 at 3:30 p.m., will find American newsmen interviewing a top ranking Russian leader, Nikita S. Khrushchev. This is the first time since World War II that a Communist leader has agreed to submit to the free questioning of American newsmen. The special program will be filmed in Moscow and will follow the normal ground rules of the series in that questions posed by the newsmen will be wide-range and unrehearsed.

ODYSSEY, Chan. 4 on Sunday, June 2, at 5 p.m., will take viewers into the most completely feudal society ever known, 19th Century Japan, when the program presents "Samurai", the factual, almost unbelievable story of Japan's supreme warrior-knight.

WITHOUT INCIDENT will be the Playhouse 90 production for June 6 on channel 4. Starring will be Errol Flynn, Ann Sheridan, John Ireland and Julie London. An adventure drama filmed at Tucson, Arizona. Circle of the Day is this week's Playhouse 90 show.

WILDCAT OPENS

Wildcat Park opens on Memorial Day. Here is an example of what can be done with a well rounded play area. Last year it cost about $3,692 to maintain this park, and receipts totaled $4,650.

Constructing this field has cost about $121,000, some of which was spent back in 1925 when it was started. Much of this was donated. It includes 64 acres, in which you will find a baseball field, softball field, a grandstand seating 1,500, a shelter with gas and electricity which will accommodate 300, a stone building also equipped with hot plates and electricity to serve 100, and another shelter that will protect about 100 picnickers.

Facilities include a swimming pool, tennis courts, volley and basketball courts, volleyball, horse-shoe courts, woodland paths, and parking for 2,000 cars.

If you want information or want to make a reservation call the general manager, Albert G. Carlson, Ludlow 4371.

And if little Ludlow can have a family area like this, why not Warren . . . or any town in the area? ***

MEMORIAL MEMORIES

About the only thing that remains to remind us of the Memorial Days of a few years ago is the Gettysburg address and Logan's orders. Some communities even have forgotten the orders.

It was a big day in those years when a ride out of town was a treat, and your legs took you most of the places you wanted to go. A parade was a major attraction, followed by a double-header on the baseball diamond, and a dance in the evening.

Any live community could dream up many more attractions to fill gaps that might develop, or to accommodate those not interested in baseball or hoofing. If you go back far enough this might mean a track meet between volunteer firemen, a horse race, or a community picnic which included everything from a tug of war to free beer.

The volunteer firemen's races could not be classified as completely amateur. Many of the skippers were former were members only because of their fleetness of foot, and actually were semi-pros. The cash winnings went into their pockets, and often they received compensation for just being there.

The first time we ever got lost was at the end of a parade. We were about nine and a member of a scout group for boys under twelve. Parades in the city where we lived were mighty long affairs, both in themselves and the distance traveled.

When the line of march broke up we were two miles from home and on our own. Adult leadership was not tops in those days either at times. However, our homing instinct prevailed and we found our way across empty lots to the city limits and so to familiar neighborhood.

The next Memorial Day which we remember distinctly was the first one spent in Warren. This was one of the major disappointments of our young life. We had been accustomed to parades which took about an hour to pass. In fact they took so long that you often were glad when they finally did.

This Warren production set a record for snappy observance of Memorial Day by way of marching feet. It was so short that if you had leaned over to tie your shoe you would have missed it. We often have suspected if something like that didn't happen and perhaps we missed over half of it.

Our mother who was busy at home getting the larder in shape for the usual family reunion asked us what was in the parade and reprimanded us for being facetious when we said that all we saw was a large color guard.

But things have changed a half mile or so. There are more Girl and Boy Scouts, there has been another war, and we have a high school band. We haven't heard of any ball games, but you might find one on the radio or even television. There will be one at Ludlow where the Wildcats will play the Jamestown Art Metal at 3 p.m.

The Warren high school seniors are going to have their Class Night Memorial Day evening, the Country Club is dancing that evening, and all the night clubs no doubt will be prepared for celebrants, but the beer won't be free.

Most people will be engaged in some fun of their own. This can range from a quiet rest in the lawn furniture to a day of boating along a trout stream. The golfers will have a mixed two-ball foursome event, with the ladies and the gentlemen taking turns missing the ball with the help of fat handicaps. Anyone netting over 65 hasn't a chance of placing within bouncing distance of a prize Titleist, Dot, or Dunlop.

There will be tennis on our new courts, arching with our new bow, trudging with our new camera, and motoring in our new convertible. And there will be Gettysburg, General Logan, and an address by Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson.

The parade moves at ten, goes south on Market, west on Pennsylvania, and then across the bridge to Oakland Cemetery where the annual memorial program will be held. Warren honors its war dead in very commendable fashion. Its program usually is well done, though not well enough attended. And a trip to the cemetery will reveal that the boys and all of those who have gone before are colorfully remembered.

Who Said Women Can't Drive?

Two happy girls, driver Patricia Jones, right and navigator Elizabeth Brich, celebrate their victory over men in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run. This is the first year that women were allowed to participate in the 4-day 1,568 mile marathon from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, Idaho.

President Is Kept In The Dark

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON. -- The really important thing about the political debate in the Senate this week is not the personal attack on President Eisenhower by Democrats.

Rather, it is the picture built up of a President who is kept in the dark about matters handled by his White House staff which a President should know about. This "ignorance," as it was bluntly called by the President's Democratic detractors, was about natural resource policy and special privileges for big electric utilities.

What has happened once again emphasizes what now is common knowledge here -- how powerful business and financial interests operate to get what they want behind the facade of a kindly, popular hero whose interest in social welfare is continually stressed.

Once again the famous Dixon-Yates deal designed to strangle TVA was recalled by Senator Estes Kefauver (D., Tenn.) in connection with confirmation of J. Sinclair Armstrong, formerly chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, as Assistant Secretary of Navy.

When SEC chairman, Armstrong was shoved around by Sherman Adams, assistant to the President. The latter got Armstrong to delay the beginning of an investigation of the Dixon-Yates deal so that the House could act on a $6 1/2 million appropriation for a transmission line for Dixon-Yates before the SEC investigation.

Adams knew such a probe would show, as it did, that an agent of a Wall Street investment firm involved in the Dixon-Yates financing was also a consultant for the Budget Bureau in negotiating the Dixon-Yates deal.

This is known as "conflict of interest," of which there have been numerous cases in this business Administration. It is against the law.

During the controversy over the Dixon-Yates contract, which was finally canceled by the government because of conflict of interest, we discovered at White House news conferences that the President had not been informed by his White House staff of details of this case affecting a big section of the country and an important government project.

Now we discover that the President still is not kept informed about important matters by his White House staff in another case. This involves another big utility -- the Idaho Power Company of Augusta, Me., -- which already had been favored by grant of the biggest waterpower site still undeveloped in the United States, Hell's Canyon in the Snake River along the Oregon-Idaho border.

Twice at recent news conferences, President Eisenhower expressed his disapproval of fast tax writeoffs such as recently was approved for the Idaho Power Company by Gordon Gray, administrator of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

This means of quick amortization, which was instituted to induce private industry to expand for war production, amounts to an abatement of taxes for five years, constituting an interest-free loan. The President pointed out each time that Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey opposes this device, as the Secretary himself had made known long ago.

Yet the Treasury head first found out about the Idaho Power Company case when he read about it in the newspapers. Obviously the President couldn't have been advised either -- at least it would be assumed that, if he had, he would have stopped it.

But the White House staff knew about it. Or so we would gather from Gray's testimony this week before a Senate committee. He had discussed it with members of the White House staff. We can only conclude that they told him to go ahead and approve it. He refused to divulge the details of his conference with White House staff members. Six times he pleaded "executive privilege," which works like the Fifth Amendment.

There has been too much of this locking of the barn door after the horse is stolen in this Administration. The President regrets -- but the big interests always get what they want. He should have known about this Idaho Power Company case. It has been bruited about in Congress for two years.

It was two years ago that Senator Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) warned in a Senate speech that the Idaho Power Company would get a quick tax-amortization certificate. Several months ago both Virginia Senators Harry F. Byrd and A. Willis Robertson, Democrats, cautioned the Office of Defense Mobilization against granting it. Robertson asked that an ODM representative appear before his committee. None ever showed up.

This week the President told us rank-and-file citizens we can't have a tax cut yet.

Amusing are the people who Obligated to stop and tie a shoe Are worried by the queer sensation That someone's back in punt formation.

The other members in this classification who were recognized were, same order, back row -- Elmer Walters, 1899; Ralph C. Davis, 1905; W. C. Silzle, 1901; and Ed Honhart, who has 57 years with the Youngsville lodge.

OFF WITH THE GUN are these young participants in the annual Gra-Y track and field meet held at Beaty field last Friday afternoon. Tom Smith of Jefferson won this event with a time of 75.0.

WINNERS THREE. Jefferson's Tom Smith (c.) grabbed a pair of victories in the Gra-Y track meet Friday. He ran the 440 in 75.0 to finish ahead of Bruce Lawton (l.) of East Street, and Dan Doherty, a Jefferson teammate. His second win was a 10.8 75-yard dash for fifth graders only.

HOP, SKIP & JUMP goes Tom Creola, who placed third for McClintock in this event at the Gra-Y track and field meet. He was marked at 15-11. Gary Wolfe of East Street won with 18-7.

FORE! — In Spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of — golf. Or so you would think from looking at our friend, chimpanzee Kokomo Jr. of NBC TV's Monday-through-Friday "Today" show. He is using a specially designed set of Power-Bilt golf clubs.

COAST-TO-COAST STARLET — Ann Kimbell's favorite program on daytime television is "NBC's Matinee Theater." And one reason is that the young starlet often has appeared on that Monday-through-Friday colorcast series. She divides her time between New York and Hollywood NBC program assignments.

OPEN MEMORIAL DAY

The Ludlow Wildcats will open their 1957 baseball campaign when they play host to the Jamestown Art Metal ball club at 3 o'clock Memorial Day (Thursday) afternoon. The visitors are currently leading the Jamestown Muni League and should offer plenty of opposition to the Cats in their curtain raiser. A second game on the Wildcats' card is slated for 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon when the Warren Elks will make the trip to Wildcat Park.

Both of these teams are playing independent ball this season and will likely see plenty of each other. The Ludlow squad beat the locals 10-3 in a practice session last Sunday.

The roster posted by the Cats lists Larry Wilson of James City, Fred Gray of Warren, and John Labesky of Sheffield, on the pitching staff; Manager John Juban and John Federko of Ludlow, Jim Thompson of Kane, to handle behind the plate duties; Ed Ricker-son and John Castagnino of Warren, Tom Goodwin and Ed Fragale of Kane, in the infield; Mitta Espin and Doug Caldwell of Kane, Basil Kulka, Mike Kulka and George Juban of Ludlow; and Steve Tuhovak of James City, for the outfield. ***

A 2 o'clock Memorial Day baseball game at the State Hospital

NOT SO GOOD

Of the three schools representing Warren County in the state track and field meet at Penn State last Saturday, Youngsville was the only one to make any showing. Warren, the lone Class A entry, failed to show with miler Bob Swanson and discus thrower Ron Bowen. Northern Area finished in a similar position despite a large representation from the district meet.

A glance at Class B Youngsville, however, showed Bill Moniak coming in fourth in the 440 with a timing of 51 seconds that set a new school record. The Red and White mile relay thinclads (Chuck Halfast, Min McMeans, Jim Smith and Moniak) crossed the line fifth and also set a new Eagle mark of 3:32.7. Ending in seventh place was the 880-yard relay team, consisting of Frank Gruttaria, Jack Brennehan, Smith and Moniak. Its time was 1:35.6. ***

For All Fond Fathers

How about a family picnic in the country? There's such a spirit of high adventure to be had in the open spaces . . . Following the banks of a wandering stream; loafing along some half-hidden bypath. Or searching for one of the "Indian trails" you favored as a boy.

Besides the fun in such a frolic for the whole family, the fresh air and exercise likely will give you an appetite you'd forgotten could exist . . . By lunch time the entire party will be ready to light into the basket that only Mother can fill . . . And the thermos of pure city water is protection against unsafe wells or springs — as well as "thirst aid" all along the way.

PARADISE ATTRACTING
The fishermen are lining up in large numbers at Pennsylvania's fishermen's paradise along Spring Creek, near Bellefonte. The opening day saw 1951 take to the stream and bring out 415 trout, topped by a 28-1/2 inch 9-1/2 pound rainbow. Of the fish killed, 233 were rainbow, 172 brown, 5 brook, and 4 were tiger trout. Many more were caught and returned.

The only record broken was the early hour at which the line formed. Five fishermen were at the registration booth at 12:05 the afternoon of the preceding day. The biggest opening day crowd ever was the 2310 of 1954. And the largest trout was the 17 pound brown caught in 1946.

SHEFFIELD PREPARES
The Sheffield Chamber of Commerce is making early preparations for the full use of its natural assets next fall when the hunting season starts. A list of those who furnish lodgings and meals for hunters will be compiled this summer. Instead of storekeepers being forced to guess where customers can find rooms, they will be able to refer the visitor to a clearing house where a full list will be available. Plenty of parking will be provided and a registration clerk will be on duty full time.

Sheffield also is preparing a pamphlet which includes a map of the area near that community. This will include all the streams as an assist to the fishermen. By distributing these pamphlets to the anglers this summer, many are expected to be made interested in returning for the fall sport.

Service of this kind gets around and others no doubt will be enticed to benefit by it. If this entire area would plan as well as Sheffield, our reputation as leisure time hosts would clang the cash register.

MILLIONS FOR PERMITS
Hunting and fishing in this free nation turns over several million dollars just to keep game stocked and laws enforced. Last year the number of hunters increased 117,470 over 1955. The new record number of hunting license holders was 33,163,831.

They paid for licenses, permits, tags, and stamps $46,638,220. And the fishermen last year paid $42,149,674. A total of over $88 million just for permits to hunt and fish.

They once did it to keep the family fed. Now they do it for fun. They once did it to save money. Now they spend money to do it. Add to these figures the much larger cost of equipment, transportation, and other related expenses and you find that this phase of leisure time fun is a major business today.

LET THEM HAVE IT
Many of those who provide feed for turkeys in corn cribs are learning the best way to cope with hungry bears in the spring. A little starved after their long winter hibernation they will tear the cribs apart to get at the corn. Inasmuch as they will cause more damage to get the corn than if you hand it to them, some wardens are leaving the cribs open and are taking the lids off the feeders. The result is satisfied bears and no damage to the feeders.

DUCKS LIKE THEM
A few weeks ago we described metal nesting homes that could be built and erected in marshes or ponds for wood ducks. These homes have proved very popular. In the York and Hanover Water Company dams the metal homes have been much preferred by the ducks. One metal home on May 1 contained 31 eggs, another held 20. Good wooden nests nearby were ignored.

HONOR WARREN COUNTIAN
When honors are handed out Saturday night at a large sportsman banquet in New Castle, John R. Reddecliff, of North Warren, will receive a plaque. He was nominated for this citation for his long and faithful service in the cause of conservation. This annual award is given to the sportsman in each county who receives the unanimous approval of area sportsman clubs. Mr. Reddecliff previously has received national honors for his work among the young people in the conservation field.
